JUDGMENT FOR DEFENDANT.

n Water Rights Case of Ognie vs. Elm Farm Milk Company-Plaintiff Given Amount and Interest in Morse-O'Neill Suit.

The superior court was a busy place Wednesday, two cases being decided, and the third started. In Gio Batta Ognio against the Elm Farm Milk ompany, Judge Greene charged the jury at 10.15" when court convened, consuming about half an hour in the consuming about half an hour in the charge. After being out a short time, the jury came in to ask if they could divide costs. They were told they should either find for the plaintiff to recover, or for the defendant, and after a five minute discussion returned with a verdict for the defendant. The suit was for damages for shutting off the water from a pond which was used by the defendants for cutting ice, and by the plaintiffs for taking water. The water was shut off while the dam was being repaired, and damages of two hundred fifty dollars were claimed.

Suit for Sale Commission.

The third case taken up was that of Martin H. Waterhouse of this city against Louis Gunderson of Mansfield a suit for commission for the sale of the latter's farm. Several witnesses were heard on each side, and then the attorneys, S. B. Harvey and T. J. Kelley, agreed to submit the evidence to the judge without argument. Court adjourned about 4.20 for the day.

The water was shut off while the dam was being repaired, and damages of two hundred fifty dollars were claimed.

The jury were excused after this case for the balance of the week, and told they would be notified when their services were again required.

Finds for Plaintiff.

Judge Greene then heard the court case of Erwin E. Morse against John O'Nelli, an action for damages for a plumbing bill for work done in a house on Summit street. The defense claimed that the work was not included in the contract between the parties. After hearing the few witnesses in the case, Judge Greene found for the the plaintiff to recover the amount of his bill, 355.64, with interest from January 1, 1913.

SELECTMEN'S APPOINTMENTS. George Maheu Assessor-Everett

Windmuller Night Boiler Tender. The selectmen have made two recent decisions. One is in regard to the tie vote between George Maheu and Martin H. Waterhouse for the office of assessor for one year, at the recent town elections. Mr. Waterhouse, after a conference with the board, waived all questions of law in regard to the tie, and by vote of the selectmen, Mr. Maheu was appointed to the office. This saves the town some fifty dollars or more, which a special election to decide the matter would have required. Everett Windmuller has been given the appointment as night boller tender at the town building.

The two soldiers who were taken into custody Tuesday night while engaging in a sruffle on Main street, gave their names in police court Wednesday morning as Calvin Saxton and Thomas Bidmour, stationed at Fishers Island. The men, who were in citizens' clothes when arrested, paid $8.50 apiece for their exhibition.

Louis Prue, who from his wife's testimony had been an a drunk for three weeks, even pawning his boy's overcoat to buy more booze, was senovercoat to buy more booze, was sentenced to the state farm for inebriates at Norwich for six menths.

Hartford Quartette Gives Song Cycle. A large number of music lovers attended the entertainment provided at the First Congregational church in this city by the quartette of the First Baptist church of Hartford, to hear Cadman's song cycle. The Morning of the Year. Miss Ruth Adams, who is well known in the capitol city as a reader of exceptional ability, read the poem of the cycle, and Henry E. Bonander, director of the quartette and organist of the Hartford church, was the accompanist. organist of the Hartford church, was the accompanist.

The members of the quartette were Miss Grace Godard, soprano: Miss Ruth Loyd, alto: Frederick Shipman, bass, and Maurice E. Wallen, a Willimantic young man, tener. All were enthusiastically received and the evening was greatly enjoyed by those who took advantage of the opportunity to hear the cycle so ably rendered.

in the world, but that the nave-needed a 20 per cent, increase, including 18,000 men and 900 officers. The national guard should be increased to 125,000 men and then standing army to 75,000 with a reserve of 300,000 men.

Speaking of the administration's defense plans, he said, the board of inventors is as impractical as a board of opera singers, a board of nayal experts was needed. He declared, however, that the "change of heart of the administration as to defense is a good sign and we should welcome it."

The Philippine policy of the administration he termed "misleading and foolish," and of the recognition of Carranza, said:

"We hope Carransa will win—if not we lose our bet and we shall be nearer than ever to intervention by our policy."
